

DANIEL JOHNNES
PRESENTS

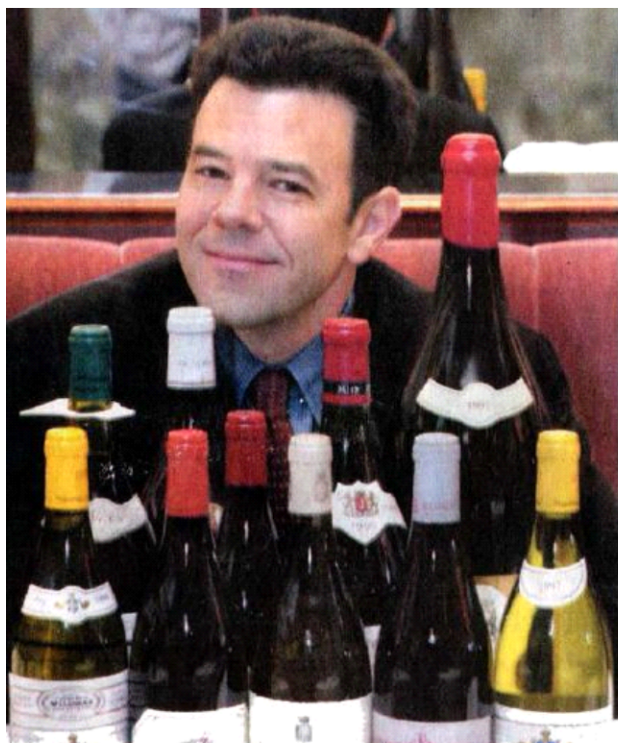

La Paulée de New York

The New York Times

WINE TALK: A Bring Your Own Burgundy Party

By FRANK PRIAL

Published on February 12, 2003

Don Hagan/Charles/The New York Times

“The Paulée, or La Paulée, to be precise, is a wine dinner to end all wine dinners...The Paulée guests number in the hundreds. With each winemaker supplying a basketful of his best wines, the atmosphere quickly changes from relaxed to boisterous. People wander from table to table, laughing, joking, sampling one another’s wine and effusively greeting friends...”

The full article is available here.